

Sally Mills*Principal, Kasian Architecture

Sally is a Principal at Kasian Architecture, Interior Design and Planning, with active leadership in the roles of Director for Interior Design in Vancouver and the National Chair for the Workplace Sector. Sally employs her over 30 years of expansive design experience, management, and communication skills in the pursuit of design solutions that transform space into places of innovation and collaboration. She is adept in both visionary processes and project management protocols, and engages her inquisitive nature to tackle design challenges by asking the right questions and creating inspired design solutions for reimagined workplaces.

Sally's forte lies in mentoring and guiding her team, harnessing their collective wisdom and expertise. Regarded as a mentor from both interior design professionals and students, she currently sits on the BCIT advisory committee for the BCIT Interior Design Program.

Sally believes in being part of her community. She is past president of IDIBC and IDC and designated fellow for both associations.
